- * Welcomed more than 300,000 visitors for only the second time ever.
- * Uncovered significant evidence of 17th-, 18th- and 19th-century property use in the Hichborn House courtyard thanks to archaeological excavations conducted by the City of Boston archaeologist and his team of volunteers.

PAUL REVERE MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION

* Continued our longstanding partnership with the Boston Public Schools focused on history fieldtrips for students, teacher training, and curriculum sources for teachers with our colleagues at the Bostonian Society, Old South Meeting House, Old North Church, Museum of African American History, USS Constitution Museum, and National Parks of Boston.

* Organized 32 special living history programs sharing the art of traditional crafts, 18th-century characters, and concerts of colonial music.

* Provided resources, historical interpretation, and curatorial advice to over 100 authors, students, collectors, genealogists, and interested citizens.

* Reached out to the North End community with free programs for the North End Branch of the Public Library, St. John's and the Elliot Schools, participation in neighborhood events such as National Night Out and Neighborhood Block Party, and North End Family Pride Night, and active assistance with historical issues related to the redesign of North Square and proposed public art elements.

* Hosted Massachusetts Cultural Council and Global Creative Youth Initiative for an event of which Anita Walker noted: "I have now heard from every one of our international guests who all agreed that the most meaningful and memorable part of their visit was the evening we spent at the Paul Revere House."
